

DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS AT UNC CHAPEL HILL

Why Study Classics?

Classics is Interdisciplinary

- We offer a full range of courses in Greek and Roman language, literature, art and archaeology.
- Study of the Greek and Roman world also includes history, religion, philosophy, women's and gender studies, dramatic arts, and much more.

Classics is Rigorous

- We expect a lot. Our faculty are willing to invest as much time in students as they're willing to invest in turn.
- Students who succeed in our courses hone their skills for analyzing in-depth materials, logical argument formation, and concise communication.

Classics Provides Perspective

- Much of what we experience originates in the ancient Greek and Roman world, from the architectural elements of our campus buildings to big ideas like athletics, philosophy, law, and democracy.
- Studying classics gives students a foundation upon which to identify roots of our society today.
- The Olympics today are a far cry from the original footraces held in Greece – imagine what else has progressed so far!

Classics gives you a strong skill set without channeling you into any fixed career track. The combination of interdisciplinary training, an emphasis on rigorous analysis, and a broad perspective on human experiences makes Classics students competitive in many different careers. Classics can take you into a variety of fields, including:

- Law
- Politics
- Business
- Education
- Health Sciences

Majors & Minors

We offer a B.A. in Classics with five different concentrations:

- Combined Greek & Latin Language
- Greek Language
- Latin Language
- Classical Archaeology – art, architecture, archaeology of the ancient world
- Classical Civilization – broad familiarity with the Ancient Greek and Roman World

We offer the following minors:

- Greek Language
- Latin Language
- Classical Humanities – intro to ancient civilization, no language requirement

Travel Funding

- The Nims Scholarship for Student Travel and Educational Enhancement: $4000 - $6000
- The Snow Award for Student Travel and Research: up to $500
- The Stacia Byers Wells Fund for Student Travel and Research: $2000 - $4000

Department Sponsored Awards

- The Herington Prize in Greek & Latin Poetry Recitation: $250 each
- The Eben Alexander Prize in Greek: $500
- The B.L. Ullman Prize in Latin: $500
- The Herington Scholarship: $750
- The Albert Suskin Prize in Latin: $1000
- The Epps Prize in Greek Studies: $2500

Contact

To discuss any of our majors, minors, or courses, contact...

Prof. Janet Downie

Director of Undergraduate Studies

jdownie@email.unc.edu

919-962-5009

Department of Classics

212 Murphey Hall, CB#3145

Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3145

919-962-7191

www.classics.unc.edu